Hiring a Consultant/Consultant Team for Adaptation, Contextualization and Translation of IEC Materials on HIV Prevention, PrEP and PEP

Introduction

The Society for Health Education (SHE) is a national non-governmental organization in the Maldives dedicated to promoting health and well-being through an integrated and holistic approach. The thematic areas of SHE are Sexual Reproductive Health, Thalassemia Laboratory and Diagnostic Services, Counselling and Psychosocial Services, and Health promotion.

SHE strives to improve the quality of life of the Maldivian people by promoting equitable access to quality health services, strengthening national capacity, and raising awareness on health and social issues through evidence-based programmes and partnerships.

Under the Fight Back Fund (FBF) Project, implemented in collaboration with the International Planned Parenthood Federation (IPPF) and FPA India, SHE aims to strengthen access to equitable, sustainable and rights-based HIV prevention services, including HIV testing, PrEP and PEP, through integrated sexual and reproductive health services, community-led approaches, advocacy and demand generation.

As part of the project, SHE seeks to adapt, contextualize and translate existing Information, Education and Communication (IEC) materials, to support HIV prevention awareness, community outreach and service delivery in the Maldives

1. Background

A range of IEC materials and knowledge resources on HIV prevention, have been developed through previous regional and national initiatives.

These materials provide an existing resource base that can be utilized to support the communication and awareness-raising activities of the Fight Back Fund Project. However, adaptation, contextualization and translation are required to ensure that the information is relevant to the Maldivian context, aligned with national guidelines and accessible to the intended audiences.

The adapted materials will be reviewed in consultation with relevant stakeholders, including the Health Protection Agency (HPA), to ensure technical accuracy, cultural appropriateness and alignment with available HIV prevention services in the Maldives.

2. Objective of the Assignment

The objective of this consultancy is to review, adapt, contextualize and translate existing IEC materials on HIV prevention, into accessible, culturally appropriate and technically accurate resources for digital and printed dissemination in the Maldives.

The consultancy aims to maximize the use of existing resources while ensuring that the materials respond to local information needs, language requirements and service delivery arrangements.

3. Scope of Work

The consultant will be responsible for the following:

- Review existing IEC materials on HIV prevention, HIV testing, materials available through SHE, HPA, IPPF and relevant partners.
- Adapt and contextualize selected IEC materials (10 leaflets) to reflect the Maldivian social, cultural and service delivery context, ensuring alignment with national guidelines and relevant technical guidance.

ދ. 10-ފ/88/4 ރަޖިސްޓްރީ ނަންބަރ:

- Update information on available HIV prevention services, service access arrangements and referral pathways in the Maldives.
- Translate selected IEC materials from English into Dhivehi, ensuring accuracy, clarity, consistency of terminology and cultural appropriateness.
- Ensure that translated content is adapted to the language and communication needs of the intended audiences rather than relying solely on literal translation.
- Ensure that all materials use inclusive, rights-based, non-discriminatory and stigma-free language and messaging.
- Undertake proofreading and quality assurance of both English and Dhivehi content to ensure accuracy and consistency across all materials.
- Adapt existing designs and layouts to accommodate contextualized and translated content, ensuring readability, visual accessibility and appropriate formatting in both languages.
- Ensure compliance with applicable copyright, intellectual property and SHE, donor and partner branding requirements.
- Prepare and submit draft materials for technical review and validation by SHE and relevant stakeholders, including the Health Protection Agency (HPA).
- Participate in review and consultation meetings, as required, and incorporate feedback received from SHE and relevant stakeholders.
- Finalize all IEC materials following technical review and approval by SHE.
- Prepare final materials in appropriate formats for digital dissemination and printing.
- Submit all final approved materials, including high-resolution print-ready files, digital dissemination formats and editable source files, to SHE.
- Submit a brief completion report documenting the materials reviewed, adapted and translated, stakeholder feedback incorporated and final deliverables.

4. Key Deliverables
